

WACRA 2005

Listing of Organizers, Presenters, Facilitators, Moderators

You might wonder how we arrived at the presentation schedule presented on the previous pages?

The short answer is: very carefully. A more detailed answer is that we worked under the following constraints:

First, we had to schedule all accepted papers and contributions within the conference framework, keeping starting and ending times for the daily sessions reasonable and limiting the competing concurrent sessions to a minimum, while providing an interesting mix of presentations, workshops, panel discussions, and social activities.

Second, we had to work around the various time conflicts of presenters, moderators and discussion leaders i.e., multiple presentations and other commitments and requests.

Third, we needed to work around two very popular optional events: Monday excursion to Olomouc, a beautiful baroque town one hour from Brno and the Tuesday visit to Villa Tugendhat.

Next, we faced “reality” when we were confronted by facility constraints, i.e., rooms and special equipment needs.

And finally, we tried to preserve some kind of order by arranging the presentations according to topics or general areas of interest.

How should you interpret the following pages?

All presenters (including facilitators and moderators) and their session numbers are listed on the following pages. For details please refer to the Program at a Glance and the Detailed Conference Program pages. In the Program at a Glance, because of space constraints, there may be only one author listed. After the Detailed Conference Program, you will find the Abstracts of the scheduled presentations and sessions (classified and identified by session number and within the sessions sequentially as scheduled).

We would like to know if we have succeeded in meeting your needs.
